I am a Jr. Full-stack developer, creative and curious. I started about 2 years ago learning web design in a self-taught way, then I consolidated my knowledge in a programming bootcamp. Currently, I have 1 year developing projects on Ruby on Rails or Nodejs with Javascript, HTML, CSS. Where mostly I use React, in some projects Vue.js and I use Redux as well. I've come from a background working in architecture and design, where I learned many skills that helped me a lot when I entered the world of technology. I have always been passionate about web desig, so although I can handle the full stack, the front end has always caught more my attention. I'm always looking to keep improving my skills
